(1). Picture:- Maidstone Motor Park is the meeting place--
--of ten-thousand hikers. The Reverend Diek Sheppard-- --addresses this huge congegation, making-- --it the occasion of a vigorous--
--attack on the world's greatest evil - - war.

In the midst of the-- --peace of this open space, it seemed like discussing an impossibility. After Divine--
--Service, the ten-thousand Kentish outdoor folk march past, all except--
--one little fellow - - who just wouldn't, not for nobody.

(2). Picture:- While at Folkestone, members of the Railway Clerks-- --Association prepare to be taken for-- --a ride. A little oil--
--for the engine, and also for the driver--
--of same, and Britain's-- --smallest train starts on its journey to Dungeness. This is a break during the Association's conference, at which wage cuts, and similar thorny subjects are being discussed.
(EFFECTS - 4 SHOTS).

And here's Dungeness.

(3). Picture:- So we will jump--
--over to Liverpool, and take a look at the Horse Parade.
The entries are judged by the Lady Mayoress, but even that hardly compensates a stallion for being all dolled up like a zulu--
--witch doctor. The mares may get a kick out of it, but --
