Southampton takes the 'Empress of-- e- Britain' into dry dock for a wash and brush up. ----
---She has just completed-----
-----a voyage of nearly-----
---thirty thousand miles. Her fourth world tour---
---and she's got rather-----
---salty on her journey. Hence her---- ---visit to the ships laundry. Squads-----
---of workmen wait, ready----- descend
---to descend upon her with sponges-----
--- and scrubbing brushes. And they're off. Well, not so----- ---fast as that. The invitation of----- --- a score or so tons of barnacles and slime ----
--- doesn't make for speed. After her bath -----
---the lady will again --or-- carry on. -----
