PRINCE OF WALES IN SHEFFIELD.
YORKSHIRE AGRICULTURAL SHOW.

Picture.:- A great attendance at the Yorkshire Agricultural Show, held in Sheffield. The Presence of H.R.H. The Prince of Wales may have-- --had something to do with that. The ex-servicemen's guard is headed by Captain Shepperd, a veteran--

--with forty years to his credit. The Prince was particularly struck by the Society of Friends unemployed men's allotment, rich in crops of prime vegetables. After congratulations--

--the Prince and entourage move on to the Show proper, where the chief interest is in prime cattle. Friesians, shorthorns redpolls,--

--and other beefy beasts. The cows behave--

--as if they liked being admired. Maybe it comes natural, but one big--

--bad bull stages a little rodeo act to vary the proceedings, and takes the part of No.1 leading he-man, before deciding to go quietly. The cow--

--which won the Show's champion beauty prize is--

--Brookhurst Bonny Jean a nice short-horn--

--with limpid eyes and a generous yielding nature.
