

THE "EYES" HAVE IT!

COMPETITION AT MARGATE

---

A novel competition at Cliftonville Baths, Margate. A contest to discover the most beautiful eyes, so nearly all the competitors wear bathing costumes. Masks leave only eyes visible, above the neck anyway. Eyes of all colours! (The original black-eye excepted) are examined. There are some lovely -- er -- There are some lovely examples. The most popular type being the glad-eye. The judges are women. That's all wrong. Men are more used to the job. However, Miss Joan Ebbels of Southgate gets first prize, apparently quite deserved. Miss Ruby Barker of Dudley, second. Smile please! Ruby's very cautious and third Miss Claire Tucker of Warwick, who just hates being a film star.

---oOo---