(Cont).

(c). Picture:- A big crowd assembles at--

--Sandown Park to witness 'Windsor Lad's' last race. The famous--

--animal is worth about a hundred-thousand-pounds.

I'd like to be worth--

--that when - - - oh ! they're off !
(EFFECTS TO END OF SHOT).

'Windsor Lad' is in command, but 'Fair Trial' is not letting him have it all his own way.

Excitement runs high at a grand duel; but 'Windsor Lad', on the rails, responds to Smirke's urging and gains a lead on 'Fair Trial'. ----- Near the finish--

--'Theft' comes up on the outside, but 'Windsor Lad' passes the post three-quarters--

--of-a-length ahead. ----- So he retires in a blaze of glory. ----- A great lad, 'Windsor Lad' !
