EFFECTS.

At Crieff Station, Perthshire, Queen Wilhelmina of Holland is met by the Dutch Minister, Herr van Swinderen. With the Queen is her daughter, Princess Juliana. There is no official reception, but one Highlander insisted on playing native airs on the bagpipes, at a distance, stout fellow !

The Royal Party is to stay at St. Fillans. After the strain of political events in Holland, a rest is needed. After entering the Hotel Her Majesty said she was amazed at the warmth of her Scottish reception. She had thought her arrival was secret. The Queen commanded that she be kept closely informed of the Dutch political situation.
