afford it, and like it, make for the moors with gun and dog. Those who can't and don't, stay at home, have their grouse with the wife, and pay for it with an old hug, and a new hat.

Anyway, both are considered good sport. The birds are said to be fairly plentiful this season, and the dogs are kept busy. Two-hundred brace being a normal day's 'bag', for a dozen guns. Well ! Well !

(B). Picture.- Here are some more destructive things. Plymouth welcomes a visit from six Spanish Submarines. They berth alongside the 'Bakram', battleship, not St. Leger favourite, in Devonport Docks. The crews will be entertained ashore during their stay, and the officers will pay courtesy calls upon our naval commanders. The usual sort of thing. Anyway, they get a nicer reception than the Spanish Armada did some years ago.
