

Picture.:- The girls of to-day are the mothers of to-morrow, says Berlin. Here's a mass sports gathering of the Deutsche young things, demonstrating how to keep healthy, though single and from what we can see, they're doing it. Germany is doing a great deal to make its young people fit, and apparently doing a fair amount to make others not so fit, but this picture from the Fatherland looks good anyway.

These meetings, Germany's equivalent of our Women's League of Health and Beauty, are frequent, and the program varied, to sustain interest. Leap-frog is no longer the preserve of small boys. What a girl can't do nowadays isn't worth worrying about. But country dances restore the balance in favour of the real feminine woman. In other words - - a skirt !

Picture.:- Berlin is not, however, all amazon. Here are two souls spilled out of Lilliputia about to enter into the bonds of Holy Matrimony. Both are two-feet something short, but of quite a marriageable age. There seems to be a midget rage on just now. Midget cameras, midget aeroplanes. So why not midget brides and bride-grooms ? Well there are Mr. and Mrs.

Fidget - - er Midget - - and here's our congratulations. If they do have any troubles, they're bound to be small ones. Of course, the wedding stimulates lots of interest, especially as the Midgets' house is built to scale! If it wasn't I suppose they would have to eat off a footstool and sleep in a bottom drawer.
