CRUISE LINER IN

COLLISION.

HOLIDAY TRAGEDY.

Picture:-

The bad luck pleasure cruise of the liner 'Laurentic'.
In a collision with the 'Napier Star', the huge liner was badly holed. The 'Napier Star's anchor being still embedded in the 'Laurentic's' side when the ships parted. The 'Napier Star' a freight liner of ten-thousand tons was also badly smashed, but in her case no lives were lost. The tremendous impact rolled steel plates up like paper. The 'Laurentic', nearly nineteen-thousand tons, lost six members of her crew. They were asleep in their bunks at the damaged starboard forepeak, and were killed by crushing.
