NEWS FROM ABROAD.

ITALY : It looks like Abyssinia, but the manoeuvres are only preparations for a possible war. How possible you can judge for yourselves from your morning papers. These evolutions take place on the slopes of the Appennines above Torino.

The Cavalry Guides Regiment and the latest mechanised units being engaged. The topography of the area is similar to the East African plains, and those taking part may have a good chance of comparison on the spot - - unless a change of heart puts peace before War.
