STRENUOUS EVENTS.

Picture.:- Hefty men of the lakes and fell contest events at the Grasmere Sports. Muir of Denny pole-leaps 11-ft

1", and wins, but beats no record. These men take their pleasures vigorously. Watch this finish! See B. Kenny of Wishaw come in and go out.

The most popular event is the Guides Race. Thirty-six entries this year. Rather a thrill as they sweep out of the Sports Arena to conquer their hills and crags at the double. Steep inclines are climbed, walls are scaled, shins are barked, and dozens of amateur snapshotters 'shoot'

Lord Lensdale while he watches the Race. Very appropriate when a man named Gilpin nearly runs to victory. But Conkey of Lorton pips in a great race.

An argument with pillows settled by a right swing which puts one down for the count, brings us to the Hound Trails.

An aniseed bag lays the scent, and the hounds are off, with quivering muzzles nosing the trail. They stick to it like a wandering Scot tracking down a distillery. The winning dogs get winning cards, but their owners take the kitty!
