FOREIGN FLIERS AT LYONS.

Picture:- "Drop in and win a prize" is the Cinque Ports' Flying Club's invitation to British and European fliers. Some defied the awful weather and came. But a number cancelled. Ken Waller was among many well known pilots. The great prize is the Wakefield Cup, but there are many others to be won. The machines are civil craft of all sorts and sizes, including one 'Flying Flea', waiting to hop off. I am sorry to report that the foreigners rather wiped us out. The German competitors gave us some wonderful stunt flying. One was a girl of only 18. Miss Fay Compton and Mr. Noel Coward acted the part of hostess and host, and presented the prizes;

The Wakefield Cup going to Monsieur Hanses, a Frenchman, who outflow 18 British machines.
