NEWS FROM ABROAD.

Picture.:-

While Italy is sending troops abroad at the double, she is not neglecting her home defences. Rome sees a great demonstration of the might of those who are entrusted with repelling an invading army, if, and when, one comes along. The King and the Duce watch the march past of the Legions with every indication of pleasure. Even the millions of lives sacrificed in the last war have not been sufficient to purge countries of the war poison. While
