Monsieur Francois Pietri, French Minister of Marine, addresses the cadets of the 'Joan of Arc' cruiser-school.

The training-ship is just about to depart from Brest for a year's cruise, during which the one hundred cadets will get their sea-legs, and a lot of knowledge.
It will also give them time to choose their wives in every port . A correct start means everything.

(B) Picture.:- LYONS ! This prosperous French district has been visited by a storm of immense violence. Bridges on the Rhone are in danger, and the streets look like Venice on one of her off days. Houses and shops are flooded. This is one of the occasions when it's better to be in the cart than out of it. The landscape is now just scape minus land. In fac it's terribly wet !
