PARIS ! The start of the race for the Arc de Triomphe Prize has Brantome as the most watched horse of the dozen thoroughbreds. It is his 13th race, and his last before he goes to stud. And at the moment he's the last but one in the field of runners. "Peniche" is leading, followed by 'Corrida'. (PAUSE).

On the last stretch 'Peniche' is still leading. "Brantome" is now getting into his stride, but he's a long way to go yet. "Peniche" and 'Corrida' are putting up a thrilling duel when 'Peniche' leaves the rails. Inch by inch she loses her lead, and suddenly "Samos", third horse, slips along the rails and passes the post, winning by a neck.

"Peniche" was second,

"Corrida" third, and 'Brantome' fourth. (PAUSE).
