NEWS FROM ABROAD.

(C). Picture.:- It was a very pleasant evening outside when Serge Kalmikoff started out to kill Floyd Marshall, who stood in his way. "Ha ha !"

said Serge, "this man must be removed. I will squeeze the beef out of the balonb, for he stands between me and my prize money. I will twist him up in knots and curls. Like my beautiful moustache!"

And Serge begins

tying the lover's knot. The ref says "Serge, if you are bent on committing murder, do it by the rules, so as we can all enjoy it." That remark pleased Serge, so he starts in to decide what part of the operating table he shall put Marshall on, to bump him off, so to speak. But does he kill him?- - no ! He just starts eating him alive. If he gets indigestion, serve him right !
