PARIS ! The Palace of the Trocadero is being demolished. I know you don't care two straws whether it is, or not. But can I help that ? I can't ! So here goes ! The Palace was built for the great Exhibition of 1878,
and now it is being pulled down to make room for another building for the 1937 exhibition. I don't know why !
That's just how they do it.

It's going to cost any amount of money, and I think it's much to the credit of the owners that nobody has suggested a good fire might be arranged. But of course "honi soit" came from France !
