GREEK MONARCHY.

"RESTORATION FETE".

Picture.:- Exclusive pictures from Athens : Regent and Premier General Condylis just covered with medals and things, reviews the most impressive military parade seen in the Greek capital for many years. Tenthousand troops and many more thousands of the people celebrate the victorious entry into Salenika of King Constantine in 1912. The occasion develops into a tremendous royalist rally, at which bundles of leaflets bearing portraits of the King are showered over the streets, and the crown appears everywhere in this at present republican state. The march past of army, navy and air force units certainly looks impressive enough, but in these middle-east countries, it is always the unexpected that happens, so we will just wait until the King is back before offering congratulations. Meanwhile this is an exclusive record of the royalist celebration.
