AMBULANCES FOR ABYSSINIA.

BRITISH RED CROSS MOBILE UNIT.

Picture.:-

The first British Red Cross Ambulance fleet for service in Abyssinia assembles at St. Thomas's Hospital.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has been a moving spirit in the formation of this unit which will bring some degree of comfort to those caught in the net of war. The Archbishop blesses the flag, mission, and those who have volunteered for service in this cause. If war does do any good to mankind, perhaps it is that it stimulates compassion in responsive hearts, and makes the world cleaner by multiplying its acts of mercy. The Archbishop bids goodspeed to the personnel of the Unit. The Hospital, with its sixteen lorries departs at once for Ethiopia.
