Picture:- The Lord Mayor of Manchester visits the site of Manchester's new Aerodrome to be, where he is to cut the first sod with a nice clean polished spade. The Council are very glad about the Aerodrome, but the rate-payers are not so sure. Two-hundred-thousand pounds is the cost, and who pays ? Why us !

The first sod of the 630 acres is cut, and the Lord Mayor's job is done to the accompaniment of some cheers.

Picture.:- Major Fey, de-throned leader of the Vienna Heimwehr has taken up hunting as a pastime, having been counted out of the political game for the time. With his Fascist friends he spends much time riding through the Vienna Prater forest. After his compulsory retirement, Major Fey accepted a position with the Danube Shipping Company, but resigned in a few weeks. You will notice that the Fascist uniform is still favoured by most of his friends - for hunting anyway.
