

2-200541

"PRESENT . WORRIES"

WITH --- PERHAPS ---- A LITTLE HELP :

---

Picture:- And it's getting closer and closer.

That day when the breakfast tables will show your originality in present buying. Here comes Santa Claus, all stream-lined. A Santa Claus you could believe in. Unbreakable, unbarking bow-bows for the baby.

A be-autiful mother and child. Or a whole lot of assorted quads - parents unknown.

Or what about something useful ? You know the sort of thing. With a pattern to scare burglars. Golfing-widows-and-glad-of-it might give this.

Ah ! Now we get more interested.

Fur wraps, or the like, to keep the peace, or put the bracelets on that. No here's something better, but have it sent to the Office. The wife doesn't like them about the house. And if you gave her a set, she's bound to wonder who helped you choose them, and give you a watch.

Flowers, which when unrolled and properly suspended reveal themselves as stockings. What a lovely leg-pull !

And what about this, you tired business men ? This secretary knows a thing or two. Every home comfort at the office.

2, 200541

(CONT)

These are good suggestions. If you play cards, what about this automatic card-shuffler and dealer. An ideal gift for the bridge fiend whose all thumbs. No mis-deals, or palmed aces, but it actually dealt this run of spades when we filmed it.

Or you can send a permanent message, as we do to you.

And if Aunt Maria disapproves, of all this, just send her a few yards of nice, warm, red flannel!