FRENCH COLONIAL EXHIBITION

CEREMONIAL OPENING.

---

Picture.:-

Paris has just opened its long awaited great Colonial Exhibition. By its means France at home is suitably impressed by the wealth and richness of France abroad. Indo-Chinese anthracite, luscious fruits from the Orient are just two of the colonial products shown, all appropriately served in coloured wrappers.

Then, of course, there is music of various brands. Opening-time music which is quite attractive and closing-time music which makes visitors not so sorry to leave. It's all very well arranged. How does this appeal to you ? (EFFECTS)

The Exhibition has been promoted by Monsieur Louis Rollin, Minister of the French Colonies. Oh, just a minute ! (EFFECTS)

One special tune is "Yes sir, she has some bananas" which helps sales quite a lot. Anyway it's a very good exhibition.

Don't you think so ? - - Thank you !
