(A) Picture:- The Smithfield Show of 1935 is another record in cattle shows. They shall seem to be records these days. Anyhow, there are more entries of pigs, sheep and fat cattle than ever before, and there is one of the King's steers, which brings

(B) us, I might say, steers us, to Slough, and the sale of the King's cattle at the Christmas Show. This sale has attracted buyers from all over the country. His Majesty's cattle realized nearly seven-teen-hundred pounds. One bullock fetching

£46. which is a lot for a few joints of beef.

(C) And this is the Plough Inn, near High Wycombe. Soon to be prominent in the public world, with Miss Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of the Ramsay of that clan as hostess. Although to-day it looks rather county, the Inn is famed for its sausage suppers, washed down by tankards of good ale. Hic ! Lovely !
