BELGIAN LINER CRASHES.

Picture.:-

Pictures of the most terrible air disaster which has ever happened over

Britain, - - when a Sabena air-liner, carrying seven passengers and a crew of four, crashed at Tatsfield, Surrey; all the eleven occupants being instantly killed. Over half a-mile of this tragic Surrey hillside debris of the shattered machine is strewn. This piece of wing fell in a cottage garden 500 yards distant from the spot of the actual crash. Our cameramen stood by all night to get these dawn pictures. Flares could not be used, owing to the hillside being soaked with petrol and oil. With minute care, the Police and Air Ministry officials are gathering the relics of both people and 'plane. A heart-rending business, but a necessary one for the inquiry which must follow, to protect others from a similar fate. Among the dead is

Sir John Carden, who was a leading British genius in the designing of aero-engines. It is with regret that

UNIVERSAL TALKING NEWS presents this tragic news story.
