

"THE BIG TOP"

OLYMPIA CIRCUS OPENS.

Picture.:- Well, here we are again - - Olympia, and the Circus.
Yes,

the years do just fly past, don't they

Mrs. Gobson ? "Why I ain't seen a Circus since we celebrated my third - Effie you know. I saw elephants that night. Pink ones with straw 'ats on. It wasn't

'arf a night. The clowns made me laugh so much I nearly split my sides

I did." I overheard much more than that at the Circus, but as the lady now has eight I understand, her circus memories are rather out-of-date and confidential.

The Olympia Circus is up-to-date. This sea-lion act is uncanny. So clever that even Brother Seal applauds its rival. Watch this ! The seal balances stick and ball - throws the stick away, catches the ball and passes it to the trainer.

If I say that after a party, I wouldn't believe it. Seven-thousand invited children, guests of Mr. Bertram Mills, watched this thrilling rehearsal, and laughed and cheered themselves hoarse with sheer delight. Even now, there's nothing quite like a Circus. (EFFECTS)
