THE WINGED MAN

AMAZING FLIGHT.

Picture.:-

Has man wrested from the birds their secret of flight? Clem Sohn, the bat man seems to have done it. Here is the most remarkable flight picture ever published. In that 'plane is the bat man. He leaps out of the machine with nothing but his flimsy silk wings to prevent him from immediately crashing to death. Oh Yes! He carries a packed parachute for use later on. The flour trail shows his amazing flight. Nothing like it has ever been seen before. This picture is one continuous shot, giving no possibility of faking. If his nerve goes, he's a spoilt man. Maybe you are looking at the pioneer of new air conquests, the forerunner of new landing methods from fast argosies of the skies. Bat-winged soldiers trained for this dive of death. (PAUSE). At 2000 feet he opens his parachute for a normal landing. After eight-thousand feet of incredible swoops and dives, a tricky wind gives him a bad landing. But all the same he's the nearest thing to a real bird-man that's yet been seen.
