CHINESE DEMONSTRATION.

CLASH WITH AUTHORITY

Picture.:- The students of Peiping start a monster demonstration against Hopei and Chahar movement for self government. The first result is that the gates of the city are closed to keep those inside inside, and those outside outside. Rumour says the rising was engineered by Japan's empire-builder

Major General Doihara, known as Lawrence of Manchuria. The situation looks threatening.

The Mayors of Tientsin and Peiping take prompt action to stop, or limit disorders.

The Peiping chief-of-police gives warning of a heavy hand, and soon is compelled to use it.

The tense situation breaks out into a riot and bloodshed. The police open fire.

Students are shot down in their tracks. Bludgeons and broadswords are freely used in this fierce awakening to a new national destiny of the sons and daughters of the dragon.
