

MONTE CARLO RALLY

BRITAIN AMONGST THE "ALSO-RANS"

---

Picture:- Athens ! Competitors in the Monte Carlo Club Rally start on their 2500 miles journey. Athens is only one starting point. Another at Umea, is less than 100 miles from the Arctic Circle. Snow and ice makes many roads dangerous. But Paris is clear as the cars pass through on their way to the rallying point. Of all the bats, there'adsn't seem to be one which looks like Italy. I suppose she's concentrating on another drive ! The cars begin to arrive at Monte Carlo, with many drivers exhausted by the strain of nearly five day's continuous race. At the finish, the Rumanians from Athens, Zamfirescou and Cristea are given the winning points, securing the international sporting cup.

The women's cup is taken by France, and Britain's first place is seventh ! Not so good. Well, here's to drink !
