JUBILEE'S BIRTHDAY

CHIMPANZEE BABY CELEBRATES.

---

Picture.:-

Meet Mrs. Boo Boo on the occasion of the first birthday of her famous daughter Jubilee. Jubilee is the only baby Chimpanzee ever born in London's Zoo.

She is very healthy and strong and does her daily dozen on the cage wires, just like Daddy, on the bedroom floor. Her birthday has brought her a heap of presents.

It's her fatal beauty what does it, and while Ma Boo-Boo shows how toys are or are not worked, Jubilee's father gives a birthday party. Kiddies from the humbler London homes are the guests, and do pretty well, too, including Pa.

The weather has been so cold, that Ma and offspring have their cake in their own quarters. Mother tries it first to pass it as fit for baby Chimp's consumption, finds it good, and offers the child chimp a chunk - piece.

There is one candle on the cake, and they'll probably like the taste of that best of all.

If Boo Boo could speak, I'll bet she'd just say 'Isn't she a lovely baby ?'
