

FUN IN MANCHESTER

STUDENTS REVELS.

---

Picture.:- Topicality is the key-note of Manchester

students' latest charity effort. Abyssinia is honoured, likewise the Continent, represented by Herr von Schnitzler, imitating a Roman gladiator.

The 'quins' in a monster lorry tram, all alive with collecting boxes for cradles.

Albert Square is just a mass of people. There must be ten-thousand, all being canvassed for pennies by students, male and female in every imaginable costume, and some which are most imagination, and not much else. At the Town Hall the procession comes to a halt, and is addressed by Manchester's

Lord Mayor, Alderman Williams. With him are the Bishops of Manchester, and Salford, who have given their blessing to these hilarious, but most commendable charity raising drives, to ameliorate suffering and cure the sick.
