

(CONTINUED)

(D) Picture.:-

The Thoroughbred and Hunter Show at the Agricultural Hall. The horses parade before His Royal Highness,

The Duke of Gloucester, while the judges take notes. "Silver Fox" starts a circus act, but desists after a whispered word about behaviour before company, and the parade continues with the decorum which one only expects from animals of aristocratic breed.

The judges present rosettes to the lucky winning animals, but a luckier animal is kissed by Lady Wright, Master of the Tidworth Hounds. (Teh ! Teh!)