NEWS IN BRIEF.

(A-) Picture.:- This Coatbridge house collapsed without warning. No-one was living in it, but two people who happened to be looking round inside were killed by the falling brick-work. One had gone to search for a child who was supposed to be playing nearby. The child was not there. Henry Boyle rushed to the rescue of several people who were injured, and his prompt action saved much suffering.

350 years ago some-one invested a sum of money in consols to provide the annual prize money, and it often happens that the horse running second gets more money than the winner, which seems all wrong. This year's run-away winner is "Sporting Chance" and there's his money (about eight pounds). He thinks he did well, but that's only his opinion. Eh, George ?
