

READY FOR "THE ROAD"

CIRCUS DAYS ARE COMING.

---

Picture.:- Spring has come. American circus folk limber up. It's a personal insult to suggest betting a monkey on their success. A little spring tonic, and the hippo will be ready for the road. (GROWL).

Aerial acts of balancing their budget and soon all will be hitting the sawdust trail, and the thrills of the big top road show.

And what's a circus act without bare back stars ? Anlot of bare-backed stars. (EFFECTS).

Look at the savage lioness. Come on you lazy cat ! The winter's over. Ah ! The triumph of man over musels. The elephant sees no difference anyway. And they say elephants are intëlligent, although they are kidded to work for a living.

Hello ! Hello ! She looks full of spirit. Pals, she's had one for the road !
