

5/3/54.

This is the House of <sup>n</sup>representatives of the United States Parliament in Washington; and here, being taken into custody, are two men and a ~~girl~~ woman, who opened fire from a public gallery upon the floor below when it was packed with Congressmen dealing with America's business. They were shouting "Free Puerto Rico!"

And here, in the Chamber, within a few moments of this maniac demonstration, our cameras record the mark of a hail of forty-fives from Luger automatics.

Some of the bullets found human targets; , most seriously hurt was Representative Alvin Bentley of Michigan; ~~altogether~~ altogether five Congressmen were wounded; but it is a mystery why this number was not doubled and trebled --- so crowded ~~x~~ was the floor of the Chamber at the time of the attack.

At the headquarters of the Homicide Squad, the self-confessed assassins are brought in; two men and one woman --- members of a Puerto Rican Nationalist organisation; and others were rounded up later. The woman defiantly boasted that she was their leader.
