

Here in California is a meeting of the motor car stunt men and women, who dice with death while the turnstiles click like a rattlesnake. They have invented a new kind of car, for the driver who wants to turn left when his passenger wants to turn right

Caution -- concealed turning!

RUSSIAN SEES COMET.

Visiting Le Bourget is a Russian Air Marshal who is director of a commercial air company. One of the planes in which Marshal Javoroukov showed most interest, was a Comet. This coincides with the good news, that Britain's great jet airliner will soon be resuming its passenger services across the world.

SKI-CARNIVAL.

This was how they celebrated the end of the Carnival Season at Saalbach --- hundreds of happy children --- and a selection of ~~zaxkuzk~~ costumes ~~ka~~ funny enough to ~~zaxkuzk~~ give them nightmares for a week. It might be all right in a fairy tale --- but in real ~~zaxkuzk~~ life, the little dog didn't laugh.

UNDERWATER WEDDING.

This is it. When you've seen this, you've seen everything. In Texas, Bob Smith and Mary Beth Sanger held their wedding under the water. It might become a popular thing for a bride and groom to say "I do", in a register office under the water. It's the only place where a man would ask his <sup>mother-in-law</sup> ~~wife's relations~~ to stay a bit longer.
