GREETING TO THE NEWS CINE

~~But the crews it's those last tense moments. Last minute adjustments are made. The boat is ready for the fray. Launching drill takes their mind off the coming race~~ ^{as we open with} the Clyde Head of the River.

For the kids - it's Boat Race Day - with grand free entertainment - a feast of ^{true} amateur sport.

~~Glasgow University~~ No. 1 crew get away on a gruelling two-and-a-half mile course. The boats are competing in two classes, in a time test - the crew with the fastest time, winning the Blue Riband.

Under Dalarnock Bridge - the crews, leaving at approximately ten seconds intervals, are now closing up. The pace quickens. Edinburgh University No. 3 Boat passes the camera - a study ^{of} ~~in~~ grace and rhythm.

It is hoped to send a Scottish crew to Vancouver for the Empire Games - that, too, is an added incentive - for success could bring this signal honour.

Loch Lomond No. 3 - one of the Clinker crews in action.

The coveted Head of the River ^{PENNANT} ~~presented by the President of the Scottish Amateur Rowing Association~~ goes to the Premier Edinburgh crew...

Loch Lomond II won the Clinker Division.
