

SIR WINSTON IN U.S.

29/6/54.

~~Here's~~ ^{touch down} the British statecruiser Canopus, on the tarmac at Washington, after the Atlantic flight by Sir Winston Churchill and ~~MR~~ Mr Eden, for talks with the American President and Foreign Secretary. They were welcomed at the airport by Mr Richard Nixon, Vice³President of the United States.

And also waiting to greet them was the Foreign Secretary, Mr John ~~Foster~~ Foster Dulles. Despite the long flight, the Premier was in high spirits.

And, still in the best of good humours, the party drove from the ~~airport~~ airport to the White House, to meet the President. There's no doubt that many people in the United States, look on a visit from Britain's Prime Minister, like a visit from a peer relation who's certain to ask for something; but from the ~~meeting~~ ^{first} meeting with President Eisenhower, friendly feeling went into top gear.
