

On a State Visit to America, President Syngman Rhee of South Korea arrives at the White House in Washington. In the city where he was a modest college graduate nearly fifty years ago --- he is now welcomed officially by President Eisenhower.

HEMINGWAY.

Back in Cuba after his plane crashes in Africa, and a somewhat less dramatic holiday in Europe, is one of the island's most colourful citizens. Novelist Ernest Hemingway --- who received ^{with pleasure} a birthday gift in the form of the Order of Carlos. Followed by a salute from Mrs Hemingway, which is a pleasure ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ as long as it's not an order.

U.S. WARSHIP.

One hundred and four children from the "Orphan Homes of Scotland", were entertained by the crew of the American warship "Wisconsin" during a visit to Greenock. The Wisconsin has just finished ~~at~~ a term of service in the Far East; and this means --- "Confucius he say 'Keep Out'".

As always, the American sailors gave the youngsters a whale of a time --- with more than enough to eat and a present for everyone on leaving.

And now --- back in the South China Station --- we find the American Aircraft Carrier Philippine Sea --- ordered there, with the Carrier Hornet, following the shooting down of a British airliner by Communist fighter planes. Planes from the aircraft carrier were searching for survivors, when another Communist attack took place, off the island of Hainan. ^{The American Pacific Commander,} ~~The American Pacific Commander~~ Admiral Stump, was asked what ~~makey~~ instructions his pilots had, in case of further incidents:

FLYING CARS.

As a change from politics --- here's the latest ⁱⁿ funfair thrills from Chicago's Riverview Park; a revolving barrel. ~~and~~ When the speed gets up, you put on your brakes and roll round with the barrel. Once you're in it, you're in it. If you're terrified, that's just too bad. And you don't know if you're right way up, or upside down. Come to think of it --- it still sounds like politics.
