

One of the greatest mass emigrations even in these days, is this flight of nearly a million refugees from Northern Indo-China. Rather than remain under Communist rule in the north, they are sailing south to Saigon; and the U.S. Navy is providing the ships to carry them.

PLANE SURVIVORS.

In Atsugi, Japan --- the nine survivors of the American patrol plane picked up in the Sea of Japan, ~~attended~~ attended a Press Conference. Their plane was shot out of the sky by Soviet fighters during a routine flight. ~~One of the survivors~~ --- The navigator --- is missing and presumed killed.

EISENHOWER.

In his summer home in Denver, Colorado --- President Eisenhower makes history. With a radioactive wand, he starts a power shogel working twelve hundred miles away in Pennsylvania. It's building America's first plant for atomic power.

MISS AMERICA.

Atlantic City decided to ring the changes --- the preliminary parade for the "Miss America" competition was held at night. But the clerk of the weather unexpectedly sent them a night of rain. He mistook it for a dark day in Britain. Fifty lovely girls from America and Canada all get wet; so next morning they had to get back into uniform.

TWINS CONVENTION.

Almost anything in America is a good excuse for a gala. On Huntington Beach, California, here's the seventeenth annual twins convention --- where children of all ages are welcome as long as they come in duplicate. Some of the entries with a flavour of the Navy were as like as two blades of a propeller; which leads us on to another pair of twins, who are both new and news. They're the first twins ever born on a U.S. Service Transport.
