

5/10/54,

A crowd of sixty thousand at Windsor Park, Belfast --- watching this international Soccer --- saw the home team kick off and start with a vigorous attack. And for most of the match saw the white shirts of England a bit off colour. But out on the ~~English~~ wing was Stanley Matthews --- and here he goes.

~~And here's another dangerous moment.~~ And here's another dangerous moment. Revie to Matthews; Matthews centres and the Lefthouse header is well saved again.

Thirty minutes inside the second half came a surprise goal for England --- scored by Haynes.

And before the end, a passing movement on the England side, led to yet another goal. And a two-nil win for England. And that was another surprise.
