

Here are some of the international entries in the contest at Killarney for the Golden Plough World Championship Trophy. One from Canada ~~X~~ and this one from Durham in England, who secured second place. The outright champion was Hugh Barr --- a young ploughboy of the modern kind, who brought his tractor from across the border, in Northern Ireland.

RUSSIAN ATHLETES.

In the White City Stadium --- the Russian athletes over in London for the London v Moscow match, had a preliminary limbering up. Among the Women was Nina Otkalenko, who beat Diana Leather in the European Games. But, men and women, they wasted no time on arrival, before getting out to practice.

MODERN HOME.

The owner of this house in California, by the use of electronics, gives us a glimpse of the ideal home of the future...,... where windows close automatically when it starts to get ~~windy~~ ^{chilly.} But it's in the kitchen, that it really looks like magic. A magnetic field on the electronic stove, cooks the food in ~~the air~~ ^{with-air} while the stove remains cold. ¹⁵ And when you stop cooking ~~M~~ TAP.

⁴ While the children play happily in the garden, the home-made TV set enables Mum and Dad to step indoors, ^{still} and keep an eye on them ~~xxxxxxx~~ ^{9 2} ~~xxxx~~

RODEO.

One thing that's different about this rodeo in Texas, is that the cowboys are doing time. Believe it or not --- it's a spot of relaxation, for the convicts in Huntsville Prison. And it seems as if the bulls are determined to make it hard labour. At least one convict was lucky to get up without serious injury. ¹⁴
