

~~At the opening~~ ^{dr} the new Session of Congress --- ~~marking~~ ^{after} the change ~~from~~ ^{in control} ~~control~~ from Republican to Democrat --- President Eisenhower underlined America's policy of peace through ~~strength~~ ^{strength.}

CYCLE INTERNATIONAL.

UNDER VOICE.

Riders from eight nations competed in this international at Zurich-Oerlikon --- and a crowd of seven thousand watched a contest that gave them a thrill ~~minute.~~ ^{6/3} Soon after the start --- Zehnder was brought heavily down ^{3/4}

Watch how first one and then another shoots into the lead ^{2/3}

The winner was the international ace, Ven ~~Baron-Gillen~~ ^{2/3}

BOBSLED.

At Garmisch --- the title ^{Contest} for four-man bobsled teams was ^{held} on the Olympic race-track. ^{4/4} And here, too, were thrills --- as competitors flirted with death on the edge of the white walls ^{4/7}

The result was a sensation; a young team led by Schelle, beat the four-times champions into second place ^{4/2} SHAWNA PROVED

GOLDEN GLOVES.

In the Golden Gloves Tournament in Brooklyn the fighters were amateurs; but they went down like professionals. ^{4/3}

Rocco Ferrare --- v. Brune Raschella; and Raschella ¹⁰ ~~was~~ down again. ^{2/4}

And --- he's third time unlucky! ^{2/2}

Here's a couple of windmills in action..... Pat Ardonine and Forrest Sorber.

A festival of slugging ends with Sorber biting the dust ^{6/3}

Sorber fights back gamely --- but soon he is back where he came from ^{2/4}

Next gent, please. Martin Brenner --- versus Arthur Wittenburg.

^{Now} ~~there~~ it's Brenner who's dishing it out. ^{5/6-7}

Bob Schelle
