

GLASGOW GREETIS THE DUKE.

2567-

18/2/55.

When the Duke of Edinburgh visited Glasgow --- an occasion on which some of the onlookers stood open-mouthed in excitement --- he opened the Scottish Dairy Show at Kelvin Hall and made a comprehensive tour of all sections. Afterwards, at the City Hall, the Duke received the Freedom of Glasgow.

After the presentation of the casket --- the Lord Provost led the citizens in three hearty cheers.