

At a luncheon in London, the Editor of the Daily Express presented to Jim Peters, a special trophy as a memento of a glorious failure. It was a tribute to the courage which Jim Peters showed in the Marathon ~~in~~ which he just failed to win at Vancouver. It will be awarded every year, to the athlete who has the kind of lion-heart that Jim Peters has. ~~66~~

BILLY GRAHAM.

New York's Madison Square Garden was packed to capacity when ~~the man at the microphone was Billy Graham.~~ Billy Graham spoke for men.

FEAST OF THE CATS.

In the town of Ypres, in Belgium --- this Carnival procession was held to commemorate Cat's Day, which is sometimes known as the Feast of the Cats. ~~But~~ the Feast of the Cats has nothing to do with the shortage of rabbits. It's a tradition that dates right back to the twelfth century, when cats were worshipped by the people of Flanders. By the people of England, of course, they still are.

PARIS AGRICULTURAL SHOW.

Parades in Paris are normally founded on the subject of feminine fripperies --- but here is the sixty-fourth Agricultural Show. Some of the prize cows have given hundreds of litres of milk, and thousands of kilograms of butter. It sounds a lot; but, as you'll know if you ever spent a holiday in France, it'll probably turn out to be less than you thought. And what's the French for ~~in~~ this one?

ALEXANDER FLEMING DEAD.

Of all the men of our time who have received the acclaim of their fellows, and many high honours at home and abroad --- one of the most worthy was Sir Alexander Fleming, who has died at the age of seventy-three. The penicillin that he discovered is now in universal use. Its healing power has saved, in war and peace, more lives than can be counted. ~~His name in the history of medicine will rank with such names as Lister, Curie and Pasteur.~~
