

Queen Elizabeth was looking on from the Royal Box with Princess Margaret as the Duke of Edinburgh walked down into the area to meet the teams.

Manchester City, back at Wembley after twenty-one years.

Then Newcastle --- looking right at home.
This is their third final in five years. Referee Leaf stands by as Manchester City Captain Roy Paul spins the coin. Jimmy Secular calls --- and wins the toss.

Lucky Newcastle again! But now --- to an encouraging roar --- Don Revie sets the Manchester machine in motion!
Come on, City!

But it's United that's coming on now! Inside the first-minute at Wembley --- ^{ovation} --- ~~exciting~~ sensation --- a header to Milburn --- Milburn to Len White. A long ball back to Milburn --- he's tackled by Ewing --- and Milburn forces a corner off Ewing.

Len White takes the kick. Milburn ~~was in~~ gets his head to it --- it's a goal! ~~Manchester~~

All right! But there's eighty-nine more minutes of football still to be played, and Manchester's fighting back. Here they are sweeping on to the Newcastle goal --- it's a wonderful chance to equalise --- ~~Manchester~~ ~~beat Newcastle for Hayes and~~
HAYES IS THERE AND OH!

You can't afford to miss chances like that against Newcastle. Here's another United attack --- and a very near miss!

Now Manchester have it, and now in slow motion watch a Manchester shot --- just turned off on to the post by Newcastle goalie, Simpson.

Newcastle are now playing right on the top of their form --- attacking again!

But Trautmann makes a grand save from Keeble in the Manchester goal. He's lost it --- but in the confusion it's Trautmann who comes out with the ball.

Manchester getting more of the game now after their early shocks. The deep-laid schemes of Don Revie are inspiring his fellow-forwards --- they're looking really dangerous. Now they come --- in a lightning raid --- Hayes lobs the ball across --- and Johnstone heads it home for Manchester. What a lovely blow for Newcastle.

See it again in slow motion --- the goal that made it one all at half-time.
