

In London --- this was the competition to select Miss England --- who would then go on to Finland to compete for the title "Miss Europe" and to California for "Miss Universe"

The winner this year was a girl from London --- Miss Margaret Rowe.

MOTOR RACING.

Continental Motor Racing --- the start of the Thousand-kilometres Grand Prix at Monza in Italy --- a race with many incidents.

Mike Hawthorn --- No.16 --- had a terrific duel with Jean Behra, before Behra was flagged in the winner.

On the Nuerburg-Ring in Germany --- another neck-and-neck battle was the feature. First and second cars were both German -- but driver Fangio beat Stirling Moss by half a length

CANOE RACING.

On the bubbling waters at Corese in Italy --- this is what our Italian cameraman called the twelfth criterion of the Sportive River.

The river was so sportive it turned more than one competitor upside ^{DOWN!} but somehow they all turned up again.

Now --- the doubles.

Here they go!

This time it was too sportive; and they had to swim for it.

PRINCESS MARGARET.

At Earl's Court, in London --- Princess Margaret opened the new Club for West Indian students in the United Kingdom; a place with special interest for the Princess; and an occasion for ~~reviving~~ reviving memories of her Caribbean Tour.

Then Her Royal Highness walked round the premises, talked to the students and admired examples of the handicrafts of their homeland. There are over two thousand West Indian students in Great Britain. The cost of their club has been met by their Governments.
