

NEW COLOURS.

- 2596 -

2/6/55.

On parade at Balmoral --- the 1st Battalion, The Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders, who will shortly be leaving home for a tour of service in Korea. At this inspection by the Queen, the Duke of Edinburgh wore the full-dress uniform of the regiment.

The young Prince Charles, as always, watched every moment of the proceedings as Her Majesty presented the Battalion with new Colours. No doubt he had been shown, in the Castle, the old Colours which had been presented to the Camerons, in 1898, by Queen Victoria.

The parade ended with a march past.
