

MOUNTBATTEN.

28/6/55.

Arriving by air ~~and~~ and there was a space-travel touch about the Wrens on parade --- Earl Mountbatten, the First Sea Lord, paid a visit to Lee-on-Solent. He was making his first official call, on the Flag Officer at the Royal Naval Air Station --- Vice-Admiral John.

QUEEN MOTHER.

At the little village in Hertfordshire where she was born, Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother made a tour of the stalls after opening the village fete. The proceeds of the fete were given in aid of the sixteenth century village church where the <sup>Mother</sup> Queen was baptised. And there~~xx~~ was a reminder of girlhood days in Scotland in the display of Highland dancing.
