

It's ~~known~~ known as Glorious Goodwood --- and not the least glorious part of it is the drive towards the downs through the ~~the~~ countryside of Sussex --- in the height of an English summer.

For many thousands --- this pastoral setting for a race-meeting made the highspot of a holiday. They came away for a rest and change; <sup>but</sup> the bookmakers got their change and the ~~land~~ landladies got the rest.

The first race --- the Craven Stakes, ~~with~~ ~~And here comes the first race~~ --- Double Red took the lead about three furlongs from home and held on to win by three lengths from Stenigot Top.

Second Race --- the Molecomb Stakes. And watch for <sup>that</sup> ~~the~~ swerve by Lord Derby's La Fresnes.

La Fresnes was first past the post; but following an objection the Aga Khan's Palariva became the winner.

Her Majesty the Queen --- who was guest of Goodwood's Patron, the Duke of Richmond and ~~and~~ Gordon --- was here to watch the racing. And here she is leaving the paddock, in those supercharged moments before the big race of the day --- the Stewards Cup.

A big field of twenty-six lined up at the start.

And now they're off --- on a six furlong handicap with Golden Lion favourite and King Bruce carrying top weight, at a hundred to six. Roman Vale moved up early into the lead.

Now --- the finish. Roman Vale was still there and Golden Lion was grimly hanging on --- but Billy Rickaby pushed King Bruce just in front of Roman Vale to win by a head.
