

Into ~~the~~ the paddock at a race-meeting on the Wellington track in Ostend comes Group Captain Peter Townsend; he is riding a horse named Kwenda in the Prix de Cyrano, during leave from his post as attache in Brussels.

And here he is --- coming up ~~on the outside~~ ^{reared the camera} --- to win.

SCOUTS.

A steamer comes into dock on Niagara-on-the Lake in Canada -- bringing new arrivals to add to the many thousands of boys attending the World Scout Jamboree.

Almost every nation has ^{sent} its delegation, from this great movement; and a Senegalese plaiting a straw hat, is just one example of how each country has something to teach the others.

RIOTS. ~~XXXX~~

Armed patrols in the streets of a town in Morocco highlight the reign of unrest that exists in parts of French North Africa. After appeals to the terrorists had failed, police and soldiers rounded up suspected ringleaders.

Many were wounded in open clashes; and in Casablanca, reservists were ~~called~~ called up as the search for trouble-makers continued.
